Story of Chile Is Given Rotary By Far-Away Writer

Bob Huguenin Reports Letter From Rotarian in City of Coquimbo

IS LONGEST NATION

Chile Extends 2,600 Miles Down West Coast of South America

The Republic of Chile was included Friday in the series of travelogues obtained by Hope Rotarians entering into correspondence with Rotarians in South American countries. Bob Huguenin told the history of Chile at the local club luncheon Friday noon in Hotel Barlow.

He had received a letter from A. W. Burrows, Rotarian living in Coquimbo, Chile, describing the produce and climate of that nation. Chile has about the same climate as Los Angeles, Mr. Burrows wrote, and its soil produces two crops a year, particularly potatoes.

Chile's principal exports are grapes, raisins, peaches and melons—its Honeydew melon being the fastest growing export. The country exported 18,000 crates in 1926; 32,000 in 1927; 44,000 in 1928; 70,000 in 1929; and 105,000 in 1930.

Iron and copper mining are the principal industries.

Rotary Active
Mr. Burrows' letter reported an active Rotary organization over the entire country. There are 40 Rotary clubs in Chile, one for virtually every city of any size. The Coquimbo club has 27 members, in a city of 20,000 population.

Mr. Burrows stated that the Chilean club was much pleased upon receiving Mr. Huguenin's letter of inquiry last September. A few members of the Coquimbo club ever had heard of Hope, Arkansas; and they put upon Mr. Burrows the responsibility of telling Hope about Chile.

To which Mr. Huguenin added considerable information about Chile which he had gathered from other sources.

This South American republic is famous for being probably the longest country in the world, 2,600 miles. It is only 90 miles wide on the average, ranging from 125 miles at the northern end to a very few miles at the southern tip. The country is bounded against the Bolivian and Argentine on the east by the primary ridge of the Andes mountains. The entire country is mountainous.

The north end lies in the Torrid Zone, is one of the most absolute deserts in the world, and the heart of internationally famous nitrate fields, whose product is the nation's greatest industrial export.

Nitrates, Chief Industry
The government places a tax of 10.60 on every ton of nitrate shipped for export, and this tax of $100,000,000 compromises half of the federal government's revenue. The nitrate fields contain sufficient fertilizer to supply the entire world for 300 years, although it actually supplies only 25 per cent of the annual world demand. The development of synthetic nitrates in the United States has hurt the Chilean mines, but under the Guggenheim system more modern methods have been introduced, raising the recovery of nitrate from the raw ore from 40 and 70 per cent, to 94 per cent.

From the desert at the north end of the country, down to the southern tip, the rainfall increases rapidly, with a precipitation of 216 inches annually at the lower end, but being light at 13 inches or less in the principal city of Santiago.

Agriculture, which is carried on the river valleys, is irrigated. The city of Santiago was founded in 1541, and all Chile was ruled by Spain until 1818, when the country became a republic following Napoleon's destruction of Spain and the collapse of that country's colonial dominion.

Chile has about 4,000,000 population, and a distinctive national race, being an admixture of Spanish and Indian.

Friday's Rotary program was presented by J. P. Duffie, program chairman, with C. C. Spragins, vice-president, presiding.

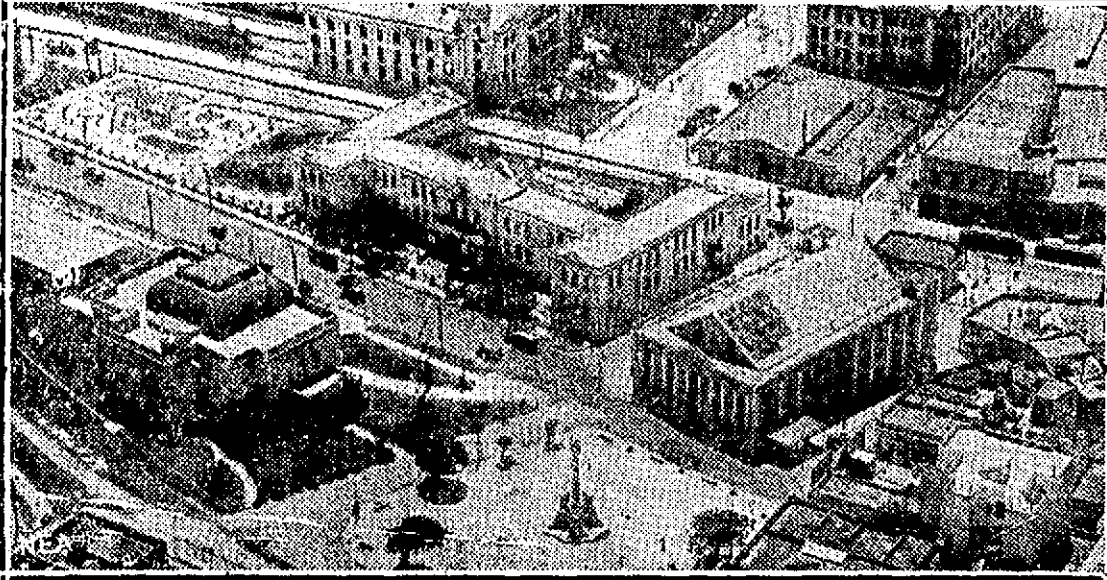

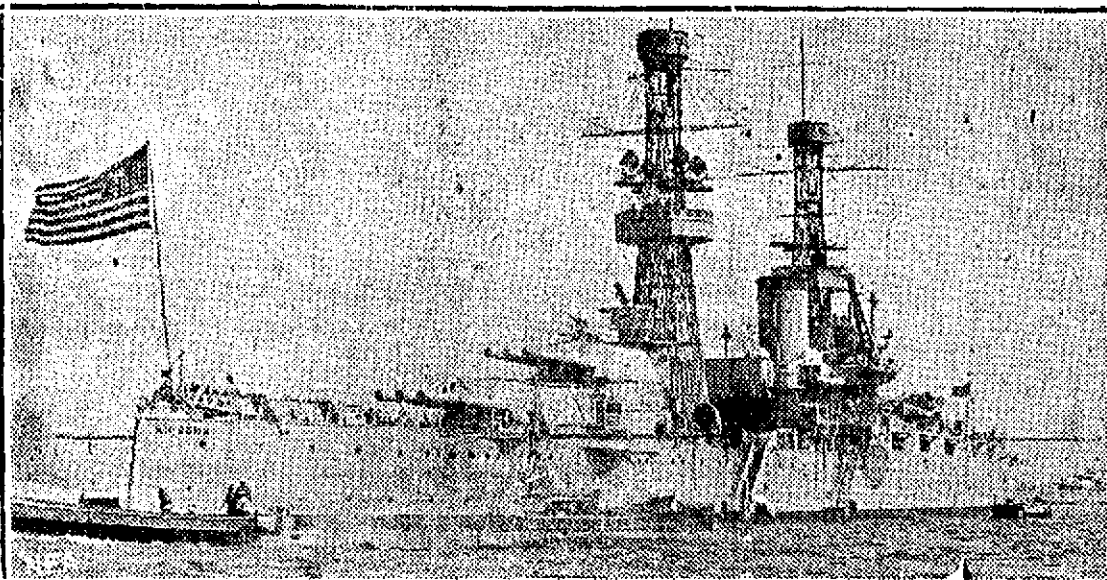

Additional music was furnished by the club quartet: C. S. Lowthorp, Nick Jewell, Pat Duffie and M. M. Smyth.

Perfect Real Estate Titles Are Rare
FLORA, Ill.—(U.P.)—Perfect titles to real estate are rare things, according to Attorney George W. Luckey, who recently uncovered his first correct title in 30 years abstract of title experience.

The discovery was bought to light in the settlement of the estate of a Robert F. Jones, who died about a year ago. The title to 40 acres of property near here, it includes three perfect papers all of which were on file, according to Luckey.

In explaining the scarcity of perfect titles to real estate he said failure to record patents was the cause.

Judges Playing Stock Market Not Impartial
PHILADELPHIA—(U.P.)—Judges who play the stock market are poor judges. At least this is the opinion of Judge Leopold C. Glass of the Juvenile court.

"When judges commence playing the stock market, trouble usually follows," the jurist declared. "When a judge looks in the morning paper and sees his stocks have taken an awful wallop, he can't be impartial because he is worried about his losses."

Storm Cuts Down Farm Attendance

300 to 400 Reported at Experiment Station Despite Heavy Rain

A general storm sweeping South Arkansas since early Friday morning nearly eliminated the usually big crowd attending Spring Visiting Day at the Fruit & Truck Experiment Farm here.

A telephone call from The Star to the farm at 2:30 p. m. reported that between 300 and 400 persons were on hand, against a normal attendance of between 1,500 and 2,000.

Although the rain made outdoor demonstration work virtually impossible during the morning, the afternoon talks by visiting experts was under way at 2:30, according to The Star's information. The afternoon program is usually held at the barns and administration building.

Among those coming from a distance to attend Friday's event were: H. M. Jackson, of Marianna, mayor of that city, owner of the Marianna Courier-Index, and a trustee of the University of Arkansas; and Editor Jones of the DeKalb News, DeKalb, Texas.

Plans for the annual Visiting Day are under supervision of George W. Warr, assistant director in charge of the farm.

Sam H. Thompson of Quincy, Illinois Joins Farm Board

COMMISSION SIGNED

Resigns as President of American Farm Bureau Federation

WASHINGTON—(A.P.)—Sam H. Thompson, who owns a 500-acre farm in Illinois, Thursday was appointed a member of the Farm Board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Alexander Legge.

The appointment was announced at the White House upon receipt of a telegram of acceptance. Thompson's commission was signed by President Hoover before he left on his Caribbean cruise.

Thompson has been an active farmer for years and has been identified with organizations seeking agricultural legislation.

At the time of his appointment he was serving his third two-year term as president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. The directors of that organization, meeting today in Chicago, accepted his resignation and elected Edward O'Neal of Montgomery, Ala. to finish his unexpired term.

For the last six years Thompson has been one of the most active advocates of national farm legislation. He supported the McNary-Haugen aquaculture fee bill. In the 1928 campaign he urged election of President Hoover.

Born in Illinois
Thompson was born in Adams county, Illinois, in 1863. There he first became identified with agriculture and engaged in livestock raising and grain farming.

Beginning with an 80-acre farm, he had added to it until it now totals 500 acres. One of his sons is now farming it under Thompson's general supervision.

It was also in Adams county that he first became interested in Farm Bureau work. He served on the legislative and executive committees of the Illinois Agricultural Association and for three years was president of that organization.

He is now president of the Broadway bank, Quincy, Ill.; a director of the Farmers National Grain Corporation, a subsidiary of the Farm Board, and a director of the National Livestock and Meat Board.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fifth in a series of stories in explanation of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1931. It deals with Act No. 14.

The military department's program for armories will be completed through issuance of $400,000 in bonds for the purpose, authorized by Act No. 14. The bonds will be retired out of the $50,000 appropriation from the franchise tax, which was given to the military department several years ago for armory construction purposes.

Act No. 15 which was introduced as Senate bill No. 74 by Senator Ward sets up the State Military Note Board, composed of the governor, adjutant general, and three other persons to be appointed by the governor of which two shall be officers of some national guard unit.

The preamble to the enacting clause of the measure stated that much stores and supplies would deteriorate unless sufficient armories were constructed to house them properly. It would not be done soon with the regular $50,000 appropriation from the franchise tax, and since it would impose no greater tax, or in any way impair the efficiency of any part of the military department, the issuance of bonds for immediate completion of the construction program was deemed to be a reason for pledging the future franchise tax appropriation.

School of Hard Knocks

THE superiority of man to all other animals, according to scientists of the Brush Foundation, arises chiefly from the fact that he is helpless for a longer time than other living things are.

Physically, man gets a very poor break. An ape is fully grown at five or six years of age. By that time it has all of the strength it will need, and it can fend for itself. Most animals become adults even sooner. But man has to go through some 20 years or more of youth before he is ready to step out in the world and take his knocks with everyone else.

Consequently man has had to make his intellect help him out. He has had to learn before he could settle down to live by habit. Being under this compulsion, he has left his brothers of the brute creation far behind him. The terrific handicap of long helplessness has been his salvation.

This, at any rate, is the verdict of the scientists; and it sets one's thoughts moving on an interesting path. It helps to confirm the old suspicion that a hardship can be a blessing in disguise. The school of hard knocks—in which man, in all generations, has been enrolled for the full course—can be extremely thorough.

Yet what a long step it is from beginnings to conclusions! Prehistoric man, hiding his naked weakness in an oblique cave to escape the wolf and tiger, and forcing his slow mind to invent stratagems by which he might out-wit them—there is a great gap between that and the modern scientist who traces his own brilliant mind straight back to that primitive dilemma. "Because the human animal was at the mercy of the brutes a thousand centuries ago, we today have the music of Beethoven and the literature of Shakespeare and the ingenious technical triumphs of a Marconi and a Wright. Those early handicaps were valuable possessions.

There is nothing especially surprising in it, however. Misfortune has always been a spur to achievement. It is not by accident that the trail to the White House so often began in a log cabin; not by accident that the great ones of the earth so very, very frequently came from the lowest strata of society.

There is not a very great gap between realizing this and accepting the devout, old-fashioned belief that misfortunes were "sent" into this world from above, for a purpose. Whether we bridge that gap or not it is at least evident that adversity is a better school than we generally like to admit. As a race, we began our progress by getting hit on the chin. The same medicine still seems to work in the same way.

Poultry Industry Picking Up

THAT "it's always darkest before the dawn" is an axiom which is highly applicable to the poultry business, for records of the last thirty years show, it is an almost invariable rule that after each period of depression, egg and poultry meat prices go higher than before and remain higher. This is one of the reasons why leaders in the industry are urging poultrymen to stick by their flocks and not be stampeded by the low prices of this spring.

There has already been a turn for the better in the business, it is pointed out. As the result of a national advertising campaign, promoting the eating of eggs, sponsored by the International Baby Chick Association and participated in by all branches of the industry, last fall's surplus of more than 2,000,000 cases of eggs has been cleared away. Egg prices now are showing a gradual upward trend. History is repeating itself in that the poultry industry is among the first to start to climb out of the slough of depression.—West Point (Miss.) Times-Leader.

65 Years at One Task

FOR 65 years Sarah Thompson of Hendrysburg, O., has been piecing together bright squares of cloth to make a quilt. Now the quilt is finished.

Sarah was 10 years old when she began cutting and sewing together the bright colored squares of cloth. The quilt was designed for her hope chest. Back in the 1860's, sewing for a hope chest was the proper occupation for all young girls. They learned thus to make neat, even stitches and to take a sober, practical view of the future.

It was an ambitious pattern which Sarah Thompson chose for her quilt—a handsome pattern. There were times as the months and years passed when Sarah sewed diligently and other times when the work was neglected. Gradually time passed and it became evident that the quilt was not to take its place in a bride's hope chest. Miss Thompson never married.

Sixty-five years it a long time to devote to a single task. The 65-year-old quilt takes on the character of a life work. Ever since childhood the aged woman has had before her as a goal the day when her ambitious quilt should be completed.

Now the time has come. Sixty-five years of sewing bright colored scraps of cloth together are at an end. It is almost certain that the quilt maker will find something missing from her life now that the task is finished. Other men and women who have undertaken long drawn out objectives have felt the same. It is an ancient truth again demonstrated. Work, against which the human family is inclined to rail so often, takes on the glamour of a privilege once the worker is deprived of it.

Lost Tariff Fight

The oil tariff drive failed and in the last weeks of Congress there was a strong movement for an embargo on oil. It became obvious that this, too, was doomed to failure and Thomas and other friends of the independent producers then demanded a senatorial investigation of conditions in the industry, which was proposed in a resolution introduced by Nye of North Dakota. When that was blocked—easily, because of the parliamentary situation—Thomas decided to filibuster and tell the world all about what the big oil companies were doing to the independents.

Led Oil Fight

Thomas had been a leader in the fight, first for an oil tariff, second for an embargo on oil and third for an investigation of the industry. He was so sore at the failure of them all—due to what he considered the efforts of the huge oil corporations—that he chose the spectacular method of filibuster to get public attention.

The senator emphatically denies, however, that he was responsible for blocking legislation in those last three hours. Failure of the maternity and infancy measure, the immigration restriction bill and the copyright bill to become law has been widely attributed to the Thomas filibuster, but Thomas points out that all three had their enemies and that if he hadn't been filibustering in those three hours, someone else would have been filibustering.

"Not a single bill that had a chance was blocked," Thomas says. "Every bill a senator wanted to pass could have gone through as far as I was concerned, as did the $5,000,000 hospitalization bill and others."

During 'Interlude' In Court

Literary piracy was charged against Eugene O'Neill, famous American playwright, in the trial of Miss Georges Lewys' $2,000,000 suit for damages in New York. The red-haired woman writer, shown above, accused the dramatist of "theft" of portions of one of her books for use in his highly successful play "Strange Interlude." A motion to dismiss the suit was refused.

Churchmen in Crusade Against New York Crime

With civic organizations leading the way to an investigation of crime and corruption in New York, the strength of the city's churches was thrown behind the demand for a legislative inquiry. Here you see leaders of the metropolitan 475,000 church members as they met to draw up specific charges against the city government. Left to right, front row: Leslie Bernette, executive secretary of the Congregational Church Association; Dr. William B. Miller, general secretary; the Rev. R. A. Edwin Keigwin, president; Dr. Ralph Sockman, of the Madison Avenue Episcopal Church. Left to right, standing: Rev. Floyd Van Keuren, secretary of the Protestant Episcopal Social Service Commission; Dr. August Steimle, Dr. Irving H. Berg, the Rev. E. C. Carder, and the Rev. Theodore N. Savage.

Isn't raining rain to me,
It's raining daffodils;
In every dimpling drop we see
Wild flowers on the hills.
A cloud of gray engulfs the day
And overwhelms the town;
It isn't raining rain to me,
It's raining roses down.

It isn't raining rain to me,
But fields of clover bloom,
Where any buttercaneering bee
May find a bed and room.
A healthy, then, to the happy,
A fig to him who frets;
It isn't raining rain to me,
It's raining violets—Selected.

After spending the spring holidays visiting with home folks, James William Cantley has resumed his studies in Ouachita College, Arkadelphia.

Miss Ethel Basley of Stamps is spending a few days in the city, visiting with friends and relatives.

Mrs. W. G. McDonald, who has been the guest of friends and relatives for the past few days has returned to her home in Little Rock.

Mrs. J. T. Sifford, Mrs. H. H. Griffin and Mrs. Arrington, of Camden, drove over Thursday afternoon, to visit with Mrs. Charles Lowthorp of East Second street.

A most interesting and enthusiastic program was rendered on Thursday afternoon, at the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in the hospitable home of Mrs. W. L. Purkins on East Second street with Mrs. Florence Turner, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Cleve Andres as associate hostesses. For the occasion, the Purkins home was bright and inviting with a profusion of lovely spring flowers, and yet old time Southern welcome that is always extended from this particular home. The meeting presided over by the President, Mrs. H. H. Stuart, was opened with the song, "Some Glad Day" followed by the Lord's Prayer in concert. Mrs. John Spragins gave a most inspiring devotion, using as her theme the different excuses given for not doing the things that are worth while. During the program, interesting papers were read by Mrs. Stuart and Dr. Etta Champlin, who was substituted for Miss Mamie Twitcheil. A delightful piano solo was rendered by Miss Marjorie Higginson. A clever little dialogue was given by Mrs. T. R. King and Mrs. W. R. Muldrow, demonstrating the idea of a "hold fast campaign for membership. Before closing the program, Mrs. Stuart introduced the honor guest for the afternoon. The much loved Mrs. Jennie Carr Pittman, past state president and a nationally known worker in the organization and her daughter, Mrs. Sam Logan, who is rapidly demonstrating her capability of wearing the mantle that her mother has worn with such grace and success throughout these many years. Mrs. Pittman responded with her usual clever enlightening talk about the gratifying results of the W. C. T. U. work, telling of some of her pleasant experiences attending both national and international conventions. Mrs. Logan told of the U. C. T. U. work in the public schools of her home town, Prescott, giving to the local union many original and useful ideas for carrying on this work in public schools. At this time, the Treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Muldrow received the membership dues, following which the hostesses, assisted by dainty little Miss Marie Antoinette Williams served a delicious salad plate. Guests other than the honor guests were Mrs. R. A. Young of Roodhouse, Ill., and Miss Florence Risdon of New York.

Mrs. A. C. Whitehurst has returned from a visit with Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Montgomery in Portland, Ark.

Ms. and Mrs. W. J. Leepes, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Williams for the past few days have returned to their home in Denison, Tex.

Mrs. J. R. Yorke of Texarkana has been in the city for the past several days, attending the bedside of her father, William Weisinger, who is critically ill at the home of his daughter, D. P. Davis and Mr. Davis.

Miss Martha Jean Winburn has spent the past week at her home in Arkadelphia recuperating from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Briant entertained at an evening Bridge Thursday evening at their home on South Elm street, as special compliment to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leeper of Denison, Tex. Beautiful spring flowers brightened the rooms, which were arranged for three tables. Mrs. W. Q. Warren won the high score favor, and the honorees were presented with a gift of remembrance. Following the game, the hostess served a delightful ice course.

Mrs. S. L. Bruce has had as house guests this week, Mrs. Joe Stevens and Orrin Battle of Marshall, Tex., and Mrs. William Atteberry of Amarillo, Tex.

Mrs. J. Frank Miles had as guests Thursday afternoon, Mrs. J. K. Mahoney and Mrs. W. C. Miles of El Dorado.

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 30 cents per bottle from

PAINS IN CHEST AFTER EATING

Lady Began Taking Black-Draught—Reports She Is "So Much Better."

Spartanburg, S. C.—Thousands of persons who have taken Thedford's Black-Draught have had results as satisfactory as reported below by Mrs. S. B. Hottel, of 127 Forest Street, this city.

"About seven years ago," writes Mrs. Hottel, "I was in a rather serious condition with indigestion. After I would eat, I would have pains in my chest and smothering. One day I stooped down to get a stick of wood and a pain struck me. This worried me.

"I heard of Black-Draught and began taking it. This trouble in my chest disappeared—the pain left me. I am so much better.

"Since that time, if I eat anything that doesn't seem to agree with me, I can take a small dose of Black-Draught and I get all right."

Thousands of people have reported that Black-Draught has helped them get over indigestion, constipation, biliousness, and symptoms due to these disorders.

Composed of purely vegetable medicinal ingredients—free from powerful chemical drugs.

Educational Films Show Value of Forests

WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—The Agriculture Department has released two new educational films picturing the way in which forests aid man, "if man does his part."

"How Forests Serve" shows some of the ways in which protected forests serve by providing work in the woods, in mills, at factories and in buildings. The scenes are from the mountains of North Carolina.

"Unburned Woodlands" depicts the value of saving forests as an aid to birds, game and other wild life; as conservers of water and as places of recreation.

"I owe you for one. Mine's just sunk."

Company Will Break 10 Million Dozen Eggs

KANSAS CITY, (U.P.)—Ten million dozen eggs will be cracked and either frozen or powdered by the Tramin Egg Products company here within the next five months.

The company, one of the few of its kind in the country, sells the liquid and powdered eggs to bakers, candy makers and manufacturers of ice cream, noodles and macaroni. Eggs from Missouri and Kansas are preferred because the yolks are a deeper yellow and the whites of thicker consistency. The eggs are packed in 30-gallon cans and then frozen before being shipped.

All in the Life of New York's Playboy Mayor

HOOKS AND SLIDES by William Braucher

An Impression of Kid Gleason

OF all the baseball characters in the south this year, there is one—Kid Gleason—whose star shines above the rest. Baseball writers are almost unanimously agreed that the team put together for him to guide in 1931—the Black Sox—was the greatest ball team the world ever has known. Yet the Kid, as manager of that team, saw his players kick away the world series deliberately for the sake of gold.

"The Kid" had been offered thousands of dollars to publicize the story of that world series from his own point of view. But his lips remain closed.

"I am working now as a coach," he told me the other day, "for Connie Mack—and what can I add to what already is well known? Baseball is a wonderful game, and it isn't to be blamed for the weakness of a few players."

Even that was a lot for the Kid to say.

He's Kid to Everybody AND, by the way, they all call him "the Kid" from one camp to another throughout the south. Mention of "the Kid" means instantly only one man. He has established a baseball identity that cannot be mistaken. Carrying on, in his courageous way, he is listed merely as "a coach of the A's," but he remains one of the outstanding figures of the game.

He takes kidding constantly from his fellows. Eddie Collins calls him "Claude," "Chester," "Algernon." But he returns the joking with a laugh.

Those Crazy Southpaws ONE of his favorite diversions is picking on left-handers. He makes no overt gestures toward the Great Grove, but he slyly passes remarks about left-handers among the rookies that are broad enough to be interpreted as applying to southpaws in general.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

OF 10 major colleges who forced or were forced to accept the resignation of their head football coach, only Pennsylvania has not announced a successor. . . . Ingram took the California job and Miller stepped in at the Navy. . . . Wade left Alabama for Duke and Thomas succeeded him. . . . The other new head men are Hayes at Indiana, Casey at Harvard, Wittmer at Princeton, Neale at West Virginia and Veenker at Iowa State. . . . But under the new de-emphasized system at Pennsylvania, maybe there never will be another head man. . . . Steve Farrell, former Michigan truck coach, was with Barnum and Bailey before he took up coaching. . . . his two-a-day stunt was to heat a horse twice around the arena. . . . later he raced a dog, but his legs and threw him. . . . the resulting injury ended Farrell's sprinting career.

himself as well as he can hand a swift jibe to his mates. He moves about among the recruits, advising and criticizing. Sometimes his words are harsh and his criticism carries the sting of a wit that whips. But the whip that the Kid wields is, after all, kindly—like the switch that a mother takes from the cherry tree to chastise her child.

Humor Holds Him Up

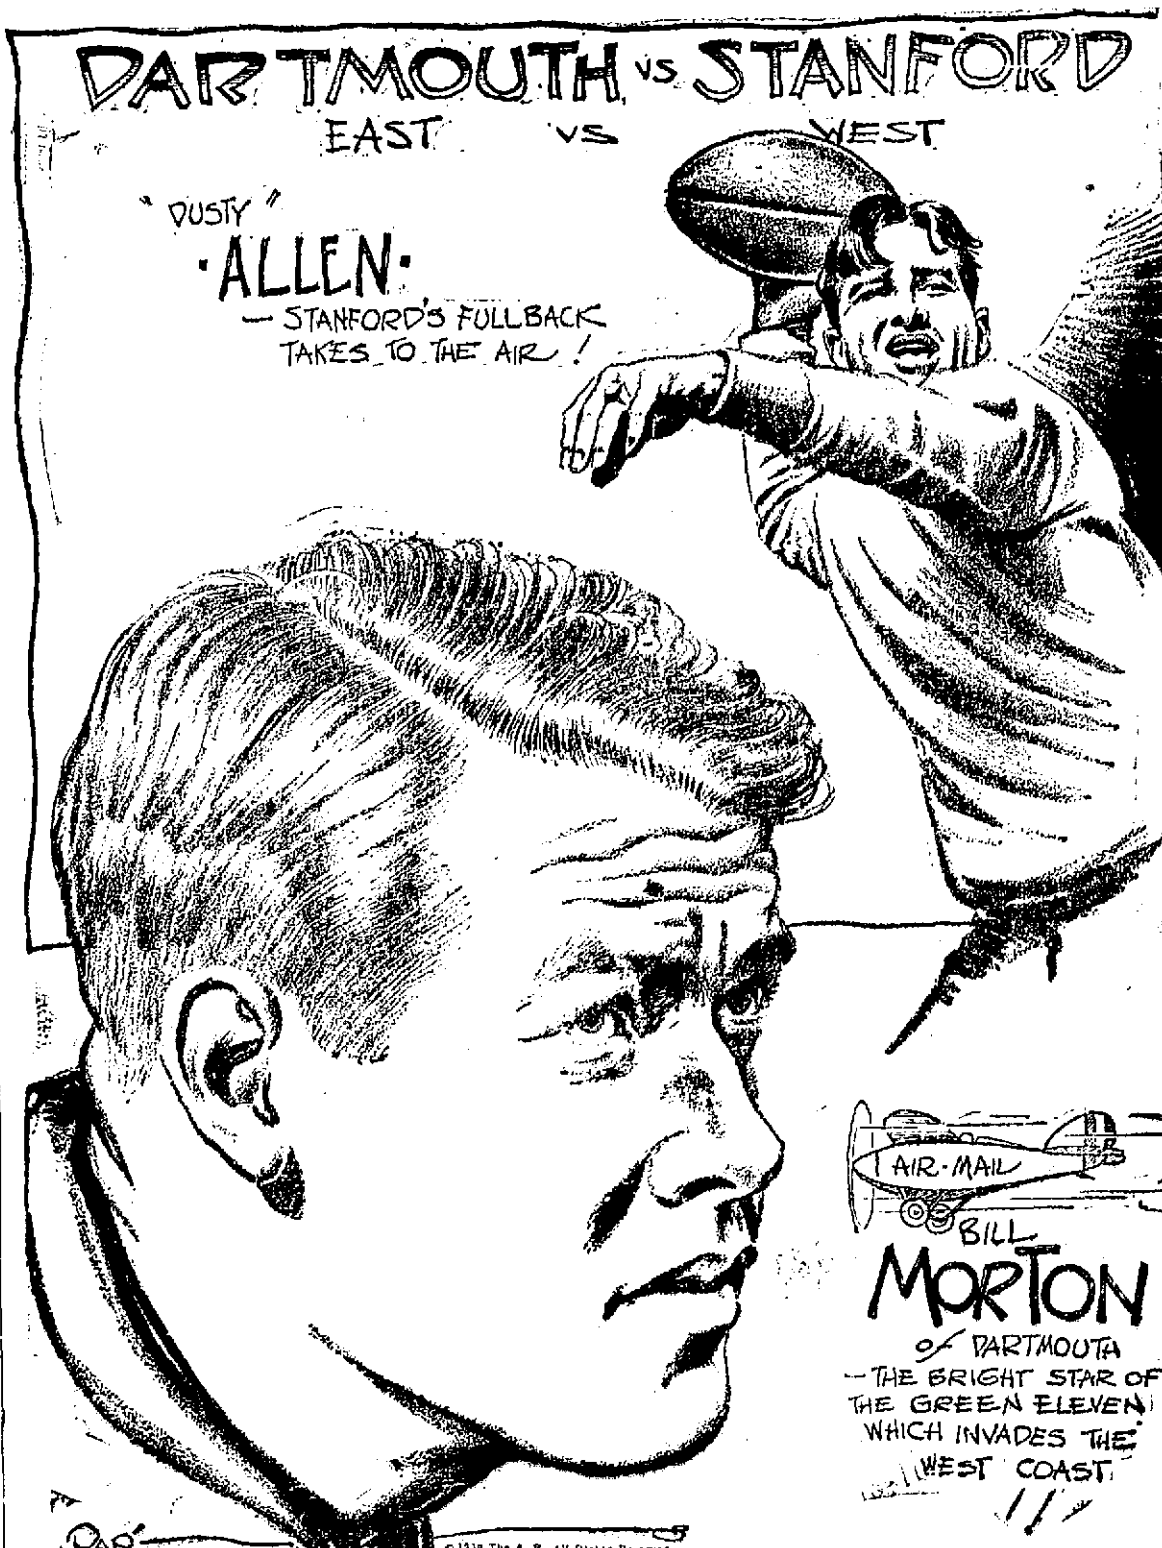

HE can rebuke with a smile—but it is a rebuke that is remembered. Rookies who have felt the tartness of his tongue are thankful. The Kid knows how to drive home a lasting lesson.

In looking back upon the successes of the Athletics for the last two years, the Kid cannot be forgotten. He remains to me the little old wizard of baseball, with a verbal lash that leaves no bitter gear.

The Kid represents the cycle of a baseball player—from rookie to star to manager to coach. Through it all his humor has saved him, just as it will save others to whom he speaks the bitter word.

Death Ship In Ice Floe

More than a score are believed dead and many more were injured and suffering from exposure when the sealing ship "Viking" was the victim of an explosion which completely destroyed her. The fatal ship was far out in White Bay and rescuers were hampered by ice and strong off-shore winds. This picture was made when the "Viking" was in northern Newfoundland waters making arctic sections of what was to have been a movie epic of the sealing trade.

SEARCY—Luther Turpin Jr., aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Turpin, was injured seriously about 4:30 Thursday afternoon three miles from Kensett while returning from school, when he fell from a truck his sister was driving. The rear wheel passed over his body.

He was brought to the Wakenight sanitarium here. It was found that he was suffering from hemorrhages of the lungs. It is believed he will not recover.

CONWAY—(AP)—Arkansas State Teachers college has been admitted to membership in the North Central Association of Colleges, according to word received here Thursday from Colonel Heber McCallister, president.

It costs the taxpayers of the United States $1,800 every time a 16-inch cost defense gun fires one shot.

Farmer Shot as Son Is Arrested

I. C. Singleton Is Wounded Seriously When He Threatens Officers

HEBER SPRINGS—I. C. Singleton, aged 60, farmer living near Sidon, White county, was shot and wounded seriously by Constable W. A. Rambo of Heber township Thursday afternoon near the Cleburne-White county line when Rambo attempted to arrest Singleton's son, Elmer Singleton, on a charge of violation of a game law.

Rambo, accompanied by Game Warden E. Eldridge, had gone to Singleton's home and arrested Elmer Singleton. They were taking him to an automobile to bring him here when I. C. Singleton approached the officers with a hammer and threatened them. Rambo said he fired in self-defense.

The wounded man was taken to the Wakenight sanitarium at Searcy. Officers said they had been seeking Elmer Singleton for some time but had been unable to locate him. I. C. Singleton was shot through the abdomen.

Philadelphia Bull Pup Likes His Melodies

PHILADELPHIA—(UP)—In Philadelphia there is a five year old Boston Bull who enjoys music.

And furthermore, he not only enjoys it, but can distinguish tunes.

His name is Buddy and he is owned by Matthew J. Mueller, a violinist in the Philadelphia Orchestra.

He can dance and if you whistle the "Dancing Doll" he will stand on his hind legs and whirl around and around. Play the "Merry Widow Waltz" and he seems to realize that it requires more dignity so he slows down his steps a bit.

Whistle "Nearer My God to Thee" and he places his head between his hind legs and whirly around and around. Play the "Merry Widow Waltz" and he seems to realize that it requires more dignity so he slows down his steps a bit.

Goldfish Free Man From City Jail

SEATTLE—(UP)—Seven starving goldfish rejoiced with A. C. Hultse, 42, over his sudden freedom.

The fish were responsible for Hultse being released from jail, where he had been held on a charge of intoxication.

When Hultse appeared before the court, he pleaded that he be permitted his freedom, declaring that he was the sole caretaker of seven goldfish and that they would starve if he remained away. The judge relented and let Hultse go.

Antarctic Wastes Again Beckon Rear Adm. Byrd

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A "perfectly tremendous lot of land" at the bottom of the earth beckons to Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, and he plans to explore it.

In planning another voyage to the Antarctic, he fulfills a promise made last June when she storm of welcome on his return from Little America and aerial conquest of the South Pole had barely begun.

"We've got to get in and find out what's there," he said. "This work is a bug—and hard to get over."

He would say no more until the home work of the expedition had been finished; now, with eight to nine months to be spent on scientific reports, he is looking toward new conquests.

Flying, through which so much of his career has been shaped, will again be called to the fore when he starts this new venture.

A genius for organization and the use of aircraft have been interplayed to make of this modest, aristocratic Virginian, at 43, a world famous figure.

Reared as an ensign from the navy in 1916 for lameness in the right ankle, he was recalled to duty in 1918 qualified as a naval aviator as the start of a career destined to write aviation and world history.

Assigned to navigational preparations for the trans-Atlantic flight of the NC boats, he missed one adventurous item for his record. He was transferred to the non-rigid C-5 to fly the Atlantic—only to have the ship destroyed at Newfoundland by a storm.

He was designated as a navigator for the trans-Atlantic flight of the R-35, being built by England for the United States, and again lost by accident when the airship was destroyed on her trial flight.

Heavier-than-air craft then began to play a part in his career. In 1925 he took charge of the naval aviation unit with Comm. Donald MacMillan's Arctic expedition.

He proved to the world the usefulness of the airplane in severely cold climates and completed his plans for a flight over the north pole.

This venture, with Floyd Bennett as pilot, was made in 1926; then in 1927 he flew the "Titanic" in the Americas; and his final achievement was the conquest of the south pole in 1929.

As he was carried on the retired list of the navy, there had been no chance for promotion and, starting in 1925, special laws were passed by congress to elevate him at last to rank of rear admiral.

San Francisco Gets New Marine Bell

SAN FRANCISCO—(UP)—Like the famous "Luten" bell of Lloyd's in London, the San Francisco marine exchange has a newly installed bell which will be rung each time word is received of a ship lost at sea.

The bell was dedicated at an impressive ceremony participated in by shipping men who make San Francisco their headquarters ashore. At this service it was rung for the first time, principally as a mark of respect to the officers and crew lost at sea on the steamers South Coast and Brooklyn.

Lighting Airway Offered Engineers Big Problem

BOISE, Ida.—(UP)—Unusual obstacles were overcome by the department of commerce in virtually completing a lighting system over the Seattle-Tacoma-Portland-Spokane-Pasco-Boise-Salt Lake airway, according to Leon Cuddeback, vice president of the Varney air lines which flies mail-passenger planes on the route.

The problem of lighting the 1028 miles was difficult in view of trouble in getting power lines to isolated points. The system now includes 92 2,000,000 candle-power revolving beacons, 14 acetylene route beacons and 28 lighted emergency landing fields.

The department has just completed installing red and green side lights in the Columbia gorge.

Powerful Voice Helps Him

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(UP)—A powerful voice is a legislative aid, judging from the performance of Senator W. W. Midgley, the only Republican in the Arizona Senate, who frequently forces a roll call vote because his verbal "nay" drowns out the votes of the Democrats.

OUT OUR WAY

Led Ill-Fated Movie Party

Above is Varick Frissell, head of an arctic motion picture expedition, which perhaps 30 men lost their lives, according to first reports, when their whaling ship, Viking, blew up off the coast of Newfoundland. They were engaged in making a talking film.

Refuses Self Permit to Move Dance Hall

WESTPORT, Conn.—(UP)—As Town Agent, First Selectman King W. Mansfield applied to himself as zoning official for permit to move a dance hall across the street.

He refused his appeal.

Then he applied to the zoning board of appeals to have his decision overruled.

All this was necessary in order to make the moving legal.

Montana's Big Gas Project Starts in Spring

BUTTE, Mont.—(UP)—The greatest Montana construction project since the pioneering of the transcontinental railroads—the tapping of northern Montana gas fields for the industries and cities of southern Montana will get underway this spring.

Contracts were signed recently between the Anaconda Copper Mining Company and the Montana Power Company and Louis B. (Tip) O'Neill.

The program includes the expenditure of between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 in pipeline construction, and additional millions will be spent in laying a distribution system between southern Montana cities and in erecting booster stations.

While the bulk of the gas will be used by the copper industry at the Anaconda operations, the cities of Butte, Anaconda, Deer Lodge, Livingston and Bozeman will be served also.

Pudding Blows Up and Inflicts Burns

RICHFIELD, Utah.—(UP)—Mrs. Susie K. Maughan is wondering just what it was she put in that pudding as she is recovering from severe burns about the face.

The other day Mrs. Maughan started to make a pudding. She put necessary ingredients into a pot, set it on the stove and prepared to nurse it along to the delicious dish for which it was intended.

There was an explosion. The pudding blew up and Mrs. Maughan sustained severe burns.

Normandy Seeks to Ban Adulterated Cider

CAEN, France.—(UP)—In order to combat the flood of diluted, adulterated and impure applejuice masquerading as cider, the Normandy Chamber of Agriculture has asked that the term "cider" be legally defined by the Council of State.

The Chamber reports that honest cider-producers are victims of unfair competition because such a definition is lacking. The public also, it is asserted, is a victim, since it is sold a beverage of poor quality, containing ingredients dangerous to health.
